THREATS TO SOFTWARE DEVELOPERS INVITED BY APWG.EU

Giving the increasing risk of Supply chain attacks in the latest years we must pay special attention to the sophisticated phishing attacks targeting developers of third-party software and critical dependencies that serve as cornerstone of today's digital infraestructure. In this talk we'll present a in-deph analysis of the inner workings of these attacks and how they operate. The talk will provide developers and technical managers with the tools to detect and prevent them properly.

CHECKMATE: SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY IN THE GAME AGAINST MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

As part of MWC 2025, Sanofi presents 'JaqueMate: science and technology in the game against Multiple Sclerosis' at Talent Arena . Chess Grandmaster Miguel Illescas will illustrate with a live game the complexity of MS and the importance of long-term planning. Experts in neurology, AI and medical innovation, and representatives of the patient voice, will discuss in a round table how science and technology, especially AI, are transforming the approach to MS from treating outbreaks to slowing its progression. The roundtable, moderated by Josep Agustín (Sanofi), will feature Ana Torredemer (EME), Dr. Carmen Tur (Cemcat) and Albert Pla Planes (Sanofi), analysing the impact of AI in the prediction of MS progression. The event will be held on 5 March, from 11:30 am to 12:30 pm, at Talent Arena, MWC Barcelona. More than 2.8 million people live with MS worldwide, about 58,000 in Spain, with a higher incidence in women.
